

Privacy Policy

St. Joseph Missions retains information on all donors who contribute financially and/or with their time. We collect personal contact information (name, address, phone, email addresses) and sensitive information (credit card donations) on our website.

We use this contact information to distribute our newsletter, annual or special solicitation letters, recruitment of volunteers, and informational mailings. We use aggregate data for program improvement and auditing purposes.

Donor information entered into our secure customer relationship management software, Network for Good is only accessed by designated staff members with usernames and passwords.

St. Joseph Missions does not rent, exchange or sell donor information or use tracking software to grab personal information about visitors to our website. Donors may opt out of mail or email contacts from us by notifying St. Joseph Missions as follows:
